

THE NITTY GRITTY

Welcome to the War

With Whom Am I At War?

YOU

No matter your age, gender, or capability, you are God's soldier, God's possession, and the defender of God's stated positions on life, truth and all manner of matters of importance. I'm assuming, of course, that you are a born-again man or woman.

THE OTHERS

Self-Proclaimed Agnostic

Basically, this means, "I'm not convinced there is a God. So, I need more evidence."

Self-Proclaimed Atheist

There is no God actually means, "No God for me." This person may know a bit about what an actual Atheist believes. But, I promise you, this person knows very little about true Atheism, and he/she is dreadfully fearful you'll discover how little they know.

This person will also be a raging hypocrite. You can bank on that. He/she has most likely been indoctrinated at your state university.

Card-Carrying Atheist

You won't run into one; more likely to spot a photo of Abe Lincoln in a swimsuit first.

Atheist Who Isn't A Hypocrite

You are more likely to encounter a unicorn.

Practicing Atheist

More and more, this is the person you discuss things with. This person may be your brother, uncle, cousin, neighbor, co-worker, barber, or dog-groomer. This person may affirm there is a God, but his/her actions and words clearly demonstrate that he/she lives as if there is no God.

The Careless and Unconcerned

They live as if they are destined to live here forever, though that notion has never popped into their minds. Often, this bunch will label themselves Daoist-Christians, Buddhist-Maryists, or some other irrational, illogical, mythical thing. Why? Because these folks comprehend very little. But, ignorance notwithstanding, these folks will be prideful. You should count on it.

So, this is how a cosmic war for truth plays out? Yes, except we must include a diabolical Satan and his minions who hate you and the All-Powerful, All-Glorious Trinity whose world this is.

God will prevail, but in infinite wisdom, this war for souls goes on. It is your time and my time to mount the stage and man our posts.

WELCOME TO THE WAR!!!

The other side has prophets, priests, and its own brand of dignitaries.

Since each, in his thinking, is a self-made man, you can expect each to be worshiping at his own altar.
