

Faith Must Be Destroyed

Category: Faith must be destroyed

Example A)

Richard Dawkins

Example B)

"I'm an Atheist. I'm not neutral about religion. I'm hostile to it."

Christopher Hitchens

Example C)

"It is possible that mankind is on the threshold of a golden age; but, if so, it will be necessary first to slay the dragon that guards the door, and this dragon is religion."

Bertrand Russell

Example D)

"I am absolutely convinced that religion is the main source of hatred in this world."

Christopher Hitchens

Example E)

"The whole problem with the world is that fools and fanatics are always so certain of themselves, and wiser people are so full of doubt."

Bertrand Russell

Example F)

"I'm not even an atheist so much as I am an anti-theist; I not only maintain that all religions are versions of the same untruth, but I hold that the influences of churches, and the effect of religious beliefs, is positively harmful."

Christopher Hitchens

Example G)

"If I could wave a magic wand and get rid of either rape or religion, I would not hesitate to get rid of religion."

Sam Harris

Example H)

"I'm worried that our religious discourse – our religious beliefs are ultimately incompatible with civilization."

Sam Harris

Example I)

"The time has come for people of reason to say: Enough is enough! Religious faith discourages independent thought, it's divisive and it's dangerous."

Richard Dawkins

Christopher Hitchens

Example K)

"I would like everybody to be secular... I would like religion... to stop interfering with other people's lives, stop repressing women, stop indoctrinating children, all that sort of thing. I really, really would like to see it go away altogether."

Richard Dawkins

Example L)

"I am utterly fed up with the respect we have been brainwashed into bestowing upon religion."

Richard Dawkins

Example M)

"I think religion should be treated with ridicule, hatred, and contempt, and I claim that right."

Christopher Hitchens

Example N)

"The world needs to wake up from the long nightmare of religion... anything we scientists can do to weaken the hold of religion should be done, and may in fact be our greatest contribution to civilization."

Steven Weinberg

Example O)

"Religion poisons everything."

Christopher Hitchens

"The new atheists want to 'raise the consciousness of atheists and encourage them to stand up and be counted for their faith'. Hence, they are constantly adding to the ranks of their spokespeople. They are out to get converts."

John Lennox – Gunning for God, Page 14. (See page 141 – The God Delusion)

Example P)

“As a scientist, I am hostile to fundamentalist religion because it actively debauches the scientific enterprise. It teaches us not to change our minds and not to want to know exciting things that are available to be known. It subverts science and saps the intellect.”

Richard Dawkins

G.K. Chesterton: “When man stops believing in God, he doesn’t then believe nothing, he believes anything.”

All 4 of the Traveling Medicine Show troupe are not only hostile to God and religion, they have all 4 gone on to conjure up a stew of mixed-up gibberish to explain life both as it began and how it is to be lived. Sinful man is prideful and pitiable.

Food for Thought

As you can see, this topic is not a question. These folks have more than an opposing view, they have hostility. They now, also, ask their disciples to come out of the shadows and to show their true colors. They expect the same of the new converts they court and make.

Most Christians are either unaware of this new enmity or they are unfazed by it. This is a perilous time, and to say that we are not at war with such darkness is naïve at best. Folks, the war between the rebel, Satan, and God is an ancient one. You and I must stand up and be counted. Be assured of 3 things:

- A. The truth is on our side.
- B. God Himself is with us.
- C. This all ends with God triumphant.

Welcome to the war!!!

I recommend the memorization of two of the quotes as they were written and spoken to startle all and to embolden the Atheistic minions. These two quotes will serve you well in discussions.

The first is example G.

"If I could wave a magic wand and get rid of either rape or religion, I would not hesitate to get rid of religion."

Sam Harris isn't shy, but neither is he wise. Repeat this quote slowly three times and watch people's faces.

The second is example L. Christopher Hitchens was bombastic, and he often made you aware of it. He seems to have ping-ponged between fatuous blowhard and thoughtful schoolboy. He was the member of the Traveling Medicine Show I would have liked the best, I think.

"I think religion should be treated with ridicule, hatred, and contempt, and I claim that right."

You must admit that he doesn't leave you guessing what his thoughts are toward your precious faith. I chose this quote for a reason that is more important than Christopher's clarity. All the members of the traveling medicine show sell the same pint of snake oil, and they all employ the same huckster's trick.

Look again at the quotes. It may not jump out at you at first, but they rage against religion and faith, not Christianity. Why? This subterfuge permits them to group Christianity in with all the silly religions mankind has ever invented. Here are the two uses they normally make of this lumping of the stalwart, Christianity, with the weak-kneed and weakly reasoned kennel of mixed-breed pups such as Roman gods, Norse gods, Hindu gods, and Islam.

Use #1

Any war, at any point in history, can be and will be attributed to a religious group, a religious thought or a religious influence. If "faith" can be discredited, they will quickly make Christianity part of the fabric of "faith".

Of course, this ploy, in the minds of Harris, Dawkins, Hawking, and Hitchens is known by them to be a dishonest ploy. Why then do they do it? As I will charge over and again, they are dishonest intellectually. For them, the ends justify the means. They seek disciples.

Use #2

They always make Islam the caboose of their train. Why? You will find that they ask their would-be disciples, "Can you see how dangerous fanatical faith can be? Consider 9/11! Religious fanatics are to blame and they maim, behead and kill all who refuse to "believe" in a million contemptuous ways. Men like Bill Moore must be stopped!"

Bill Moore? What do I have to do with 9/11 and beheadings? Can you see that this is just a stratagem? They know it's dishonest to lump a Bible-believing man like me in with the 9/11 perpetrators, but they do not care. These are, as I have charged, charlatans, and not particularly clever ones. They simply seek converts and disciples.

As I mentioned previously, Apollyon, in Pilgrim's Progress, by John Bunyan, says to the pilgrim before lunging at him. "I am an enemy of this prince; I hate His person, His laws, and His people. I have come out on purpose to withstand thee."

This battle between darkness and light rages still, and you as a Christian may not claim to be a conscientious objector. We all must fight for God's honor and for His truth.
